

CRAWFORDTALENTS

Klaus Tange is a Danish actor with an extensive international career spanning film, television and theatre. Trained at the National School of Acting at Aarhus Theatre, he has built a substantial body of work across Scandinavian, European and international productions.

His screen credits include HBO's True Detective: Night Country, Netflix productions Tribes of Europa and The Asset, Prime Video's Snakekiller, as well as The Bridge, The Killing, A Royal Affair, Flame & Citron, Sauna and White Sands.

Upcoming projects include the German sci-fi feature Athos 2643, directed by David Wnendt, and the Danish feature Planen, directed by Anders Ølholm, both scheduled for release in 2027.

Alongside his screen career, Klaus has an extensive theatre background, with credits including Angels in America, The Pillowman, Jesus Christ Superstar, Cyrano, The Nutcracker and Laughter in the Dark.

He works fluently in Danish, English, German and Italian and is skilled in a range of European and American English accents.

With a career spanning several decades and a broad international body of work, Klaus brings experience, versatility and depth to complex, character-driven roles across screen and stage.

